

light, reflected

*With appreciation for family
friends
and places
which brought peace*

2003

Ian Miller

Elizabeth Page-Gould

Collected here is a selection from thousands of images recorded over the past year, most of which were taken in California. For the majority of pictures, Ian was the photographer, however both of us contributed to the collection.

This series has been divided into four sections: forest, humanity, textures, and ocean. As with all categorizations, the boundaries occasionally blur. Pictures were selected for aesthetic and semantic qualities.

Although this book contains only reflections of light, each page mirrors a meaningful experience; these are moments from our lives we would like to share with you.

forest

